

Oct. 14. 1892.

My dear Mr. Bigelow:

For the sake of having something definite in your hands on Thursday, I send the enclosed letter. I hope it may seem to you judicious to present it to your colleagues, but I leave it wholly to your discretion.

Yours, sincerely,
Lester Dow.